The council hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal," was enthusiastically sung by the congregation; then Mrs. Spillman led in prayer, and the choir sang the Lord's Prayer as a response.

She spoke in the very highest terms of the work done in the only boys' school in Brazil, the gift of Mr. B. N. Duke. She made an appeal to the North Carolina Conference to erect a school at Rio and name it the North Carolina School.

After announcements, the congregation was dismissed with a prayer led by Mrs. Faison.

SUNDAY SERVICES

MORNING.

Sunday morning, with its cloudless sky and its bracing atmosphere, saw the auditorium of Memorial Church crowded with an expectant throng. Every seat was occupied, chairs were placed in the aisles and near the chancel, the gallery was filled, and even then some were compelled to stand during the entire service. Special music was rendered by a large chorus choir formed by the union of the choirs of Trinity Church and Memorial Church. After the singing of an anthem by the choir, Bishop James H. McCoy announced Hymn No. 78, which was followed by the Apostles' Creed and a prayer. Psalm 46 was read responsively, after which Hymn 654 was sung. As a second lesson, Bishop McCoy read Revelations 14, taking as his text the 21st verse. His sermon dealt with the general theme of the relationship of the individual to the world. The figure that John drew, said he, represents the Church Triumphant, or in its perfect state. He said God is working out this perfect state through men; that we only have to look back through history to see this being brought to pass. His sermon was one of great power and inspiration.

At the close of the sermon Dr. F. N. Parker led in prayer, and after singing Hymn 655 the congregation was dismissed with the benediction.

AFTERNOON.

Sunday afternoon's service proved to be one of the most interesting of the whole Conference, for that was the children's hour, and more than a hundred children gathered to hear what Miss Stradley had to tell them of the children in Brazil. They also heard what Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson had to say of the work of the children of the North Carolina Conference, in whom she is so much interested. Some little interest was created when three little girls, dressed in the costumes of Brazilian, Korean, and Chinese children, entered the church and sang in the Armenian language, "Come to Jesus."

The following banners were presented by Mrs. Wilson: Biscoe Bright Jewels, for the greatest amount per member, received a Chinese banner.

Memorial Church, Durham, won the Korean banner for greatest amount of money raised.

Epworth, Raleigh, for adding most members during the year, received a Chinese banner.

Biscoe Young People won the Cuban banner, which is given by the Littleton College girls for the greatest amount raised per capita.

The children's service was then closed with a prayer by Mrs. Spillman.

Immediately following the children's service was the service for the young people, conducted by Mrs. Spillman. She spoke with the clearness and earnestness and enthusiasm that are characteristic of her. Not one person in the house went away who did not feel that she had been benefited by Mrs. Spillman's inspiring and beautiful address. She closed with prayer, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. A. Daily.

EVENING.

Sunday night's service was a most fitting climax to the Woman's Missionary Conference. The exercises were begun by an anthem by the choir. Mrs. John announced Hymn 415 and Mr. Howard led in prayer.

Mrs. Spillman announced that the subject of her talk for the evening was "Christ's Outline for Our Tasks." It would be impossible to give an adequate report of her address. She pleaded that we might catch an enlarged vision of God's work in the church, in Southern Methodism, and in heathen lands; that we might know what Christ meant by the story of the Good Samaritan; and that we might unlerstand what Jesus meant when He said "I came to set at liberty those whose lives were bruised." At the close of her address she made a most beautiful plea for new consecration. As she took her seat the choir sang softly, "Hear the Voice of Jesus Calling, 'Who Will Go and Work To-day?' "

Bishop McCoy was asked to lead in prayer and to pray especially that God would put His hand on some of our choicest boys and girls and send them as missionaries.

Following the address, the newly elected officers were installed, the charge being delivered by Mrs. Spillman. The congregation, having sung the doxology, was dismissed with the benediction.

Mrs. M. C. KLEIN

It is with deepest sorrow that we have lost from our midst our sister and coworker, Mrs. M. C. Klein, who typified all that was best in Christian work. Mrs. Klein's life approached the ideal. She was brave, honest, courteous, and modest. None knew her but to love her.

She was one of whom it can be written, "without fear and without reproach." In her death the Society, the church, and the community have lost a most loyal member, whose place is hard to fill.

MISS BLANCHE FENTRESS

As classmate, as friend for half a century, as coworker in the beloved cause of Foreign Missions, it has become my pleasant privilege to drop one more flower on the sacred dust of our friend and colaborer, Miss Blanche Fentress.

From early womanhood, her chief joy was in a life of service. To gratify the desires of her spiritual nature, avenues of usefulness were opened up to her, in her home, in the Sunday-school, in the neglected districts, and in every activity that looked to the upbuilding of society. True to the interest of her own church, she was ever ready to help in a good cause in other denominations. As one has recently said, "she was guileless." This one word characterized her whole life. Like Nathanael, she was entitled to this beautiful distinction, to be one "in whom was no guile." The influence of her Christian character reached out and touched the lives of all with whom she came in contact. Her eyes seemed closed to the evil in the lives of others, and she saw only the good, thereby so enlarging her vision that she saw only the beautiful.

Her daily walk was the fruit of her constant prayer, "Purge me with hyssop and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow." Indeed, her power was in prayer, and none more fully realized its influences than those most nearly related to her in the work of missions. This work, born of prayer, and struggling through prayer, rested heavily upon her heart, and just how much this great organization that now wields such an influence in our Methodism in North Carolina owes to God, in answer to Miss Fentress's prayers, none can tell.

Being selected recording secretary at the organization of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, she entered upon her duties as one fitted for the task. Just how faithfully she performed these duties, the record shows. For thirty-three years, without missing a single session, she was at her post of duty.

Then on the eve of her departure to attend the Conference which convened at Littleton, the Father laid his hand upon her and said, "Rest a while." With the same submissive spirit that characterized her through life, she bore her sufferings and awaited her Lord's coming.

When He called her hence, she no doubt heard that welcome plaudit, "Well done, good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

[No. 1.]

PRESIDENT.

The Conference president, Miss Emma Page, having been compelled to resign on account of ill health, presented no report.

[No. 2.]

FIRST VICE PRESIDENT.

Many years ago, on the shores of Galilee, Jesus used the lunch of a little boy to feed the hungry multitudes. Since that time he has used little children in missionary work. Miss Belle Brain says that in proportion to their income, children are the largest givers in the world. We who have worked with both children and grown people believe this to be true. If we were to take from our missionary work the gifts of the children, many of our greatest and best institutions would have to close. Children are not only the best givers, but they are also among the best prayers. James Chalmers of New Guinea said: "Thank God for bairns' prayers. I like best the prayers of little children."

The importance of the children's missionary societies is very great. Through these the children not only learn to give their money and their prayers, but also to give themselves to the work. Ann Gardner Moffat had a little mission band of seven children. From this little band came one of the world's greatest missionaries, Robert Moffat. Many of our greatest missionaries have given themselves to the work while they were children, not only Robert Moffat, but Bishop Patterson, James Chalmers, Adoniram Judson, Emily Judson, and many others. If you will read the lives of our own missionaries and deaconesses, you will be surprised to find how many of them felt the call to service while they were yet children. For these reasons one must see that one of the greatest influences for good in the church to-day, as in other days, is the children's missionary society. I pity the church which neglects this great work. All over the world, in scattered mission bands, thousands of little ones are at work, saving pennies, giving gladly; prayers are going up from pure and innocent hearts for God's blessing on the heathen world; and little hearts and lives are being given to God before the world can get its hands upon them. Oh! what a privilege to have a part in such a work! The first vice president who has been true and faithful to the little ones committed to her care can never know the extent of her work. From the ranks of your Bright Jewel Band may come some great missionary. At the least, you are training for service those who will be the very life of the Church in the years to come.

For us the year 1913 was one of hard work and great anxiety, but to-day we have great cause for rejoicing. The union not only greatly increased our labor, but the readjustment presented some very difficult problems. But our first vice presidents, with a few exceptions, have tried to carry on the work according to the rules laid down by the Woman's Council. Some of the former lady managers feared for the Mary Black Hospital, which had become so precious to them through years of labor for it, but they loyally undertook the raising of the additional $630 for the support of our new home mission special, the Japanese Kindergartens in California. After consultation with our Conference Corresponding Secretary for the Home Department and with the Council authorities, I early in the year chose this beautiful work for the special of the Home Department of the Bright Jewels. At the end of the year we find that, in answer to our prayers, God has given us success. The close of the first year of the United Children's Missionary Society in the North Carolina Conference sees both pledges in full and running over. Let us thank God, take courage, and enter upon the new year's work with our lives more fully given to His service and a deeper faith in His power to help.

During the year 42 baby divisions and 102 junior divisions have reported to me. So far as I can judge, 10 of the junior divisions and 17 of the baby divisions are new, but so many societies have failed to report at all that I fear we cannot claim any great advance in numbers. I am convinced that the cause of this failure is almost invariably because no woman can be found capable and willing to lead them. The children are always glad to work. But they must have a leader. Last year, at the very close of the year, I had a letter from a dear girl sending a report without any money, saying, "We wanted you to know that we were still a Bright Jewel Band, but as we did not have any lady manager, we have not done any work." The failure of these children and of the many more like them to do valuable work for the Master and to grow in grace as they work for Him should lie heavily upon the conscience of that woman who might and would not lead them, preferring in all probability society pleasures or careless indolence to the clear call of service.

Our pledges for the year were $1,000 for the Mary Black Memorial Hospital at Soochow, China, and $630 for the Japanese Kindergartens at Oakland and Alameda, California. On this we used the money from memorial rolls, from mite boxes and special collections. Wherever the society in remitting did not specify the cause, all mite box money and special collections were divided—40 per cent to the home and 60 to the foreign special, according to the rule for mite boxes laid down by the Council. It would simplify the work of the Conference first vice president and not greatly alter the results if every auxiliary first vice president would simply send her mite box and special collection money in undivided. I so desire that all the children should have a part in all the work, and learn to pray and work for the Master's cause both at home and abroad.

The amount raised for dues has to be divided equally between the two departments. This has worked injustice this year to the foreign department. The bands which had been Mite Box Brigades had not been accustomed to paying dues, or only very small dues. Some of these loyally adopted the 5 cents a month recommended by our last annual meeting. Many did not do this. The result is that while we have raised more dues than ever before, and there is a remarkable increase in the amount for the Home Department, the amount of dues in the Foreign Department shows a sad falling off. It would seem only justice that while the Council requires the equal division of this fund, all societies strive faithfully to adopt the same rule in the matter of the amount sought. I recommend that 5 cents a month be again fixed for the membership fee, and that every first vice president be urged to educate her children, if possible, to this rule. Naturally this is one of the readjustments in which we will have to be patient.

The last annual meeting requested that every child be asked to pay 10 cents for Conference expense fund. It so complicates the children's work to multiply causes, that I have not pressed this matter. I thought it better to lay all our stress on the dues and pledge and to use enough of undirected special collections to meet the expenses of our work. I think that the year's work has proved the wisdom of this plan. I would recommend that hereafter no expense fund be laid on the Bright Jewels, but that the Conference first vice president be authorized to retain from her collections an amount sufficient to meet the expenses of her office.

Last year the first vice president of the Home Department gave a banner to the society having the greatest increase in members and money. As the Foreign Department already had banners for the most money and for the largest increase in membership, I have decided to use the banner which had been given by the Home Department to the Baby Division which raised the most money. It therefore goes to the Rocky Mount band. Their baby division raised $26.25. The banner for the greatest increase in members goes to one of our new societies, Epworth, Raleigh. Biscoe has won the banner for the greatest amount per member by paying $2.98, but plucky little Pantego is not far behind with her $2.81. Quite a number have passed the $2 mark. And now it gives me unusual pleasure to announce that the banner for the largest amount goes again to Memorial Church, which held it last year. This band raised this year $223.56, the largest, so far as I know, ever raised by any band in any year. I want to congratulate them and the wide-awake, faithful women who have led them.

The report of the bands in detail has been prepared for publication. The summary shows:

Baby divisions, 46; Junior divisions, 102.

Dr. Lyman Abbott once used this illustration: "I pluck an acorn from the greensward, and hold it to my ear, and this is what it says to me: 'By and by birds will come and nest in me. By and by I will furnish shade for the cattle. By and by I will provide warmth for the home in the pleasant fire. By and by I will be shelter from the storm to those who are under the roof. By and by I will be the strong ribs of the great vessel, and the tempest will break against me in vain while I carry men across the Atlantic.' 'Oh, foolish little acorn, wilt thou be all this?' I ask. And the little acorn answers: 'Yes; God and I.'" Miss Belle Brain applies this to the missionary possibilities of a little child: "I look into the face of a company of little children, and I hear a whisper saying: 'By and by I will be a blessing to many. By and by I will give money to the Lord Jesus for His work. By and by I will teach many to love the cause of missions. By and by I will cross the ocean to carry the gospel to those who have it not. By and by I will turn many from worshiping idols to serve the living God. By and by I shall finish my course and be among the glorified with my Redeemer.' 'You, frail, powerless little one?' I ask. And the little child makes answer: 'Yes; Christ and I.'"

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON,
First Vice President.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK, 1913.

In presenting this report on Young People's Work I wish first of all to impress upon your minds and hearts the importance not only of winning, but also of holding the young people. Young people are to be found in every church. Their number varies. In some instances there are only a few; in others, they are more numerous, while in the larger communities they may be counted by scores and hundreds. Engaged in all the activities of life, enjoying all its freedom, they are at the same time exposed to all its dangers. Who is caring for them? Is the church making use of them? What are they doing? Where are they going? What are they reading? How many of us are either qualified or willing to answer these questions? Many of our boys and girls, becoming indifferent and discouraged, are drifting from our church, turning either to secret orders or to churches of other denominations where they claim to find a more united brotherhood. During these days of their sore need shall we be guilty of failing to reach out a helping hand in the spirit of true fellowship?

Possibly to win young people is not difficult, but surely to hold them is a problem. We must realize that before us lies a stupendous task, and that failure is inevitable unless they find in our lives both an example and an inspiration to Christian service. Spasmodic effort in this directon will of necessity prove ineffectual. A well organized system is an absolute necessity; but no machine, however perfect, will run itself. Leaders too are needed—leaders who are willing to devote time and energy to this work, who will study its needs and inspire the young people themselves with a realization of its possibilities.

We may well take as our motto for the coming year Paul's injunction to Timothy, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." Paul saw wonderful possibilities in the life of this young man, and so with enthusiasm he urges Timothy to put forth his best efforts for the Master. Therefore he says "Study." It is only when we know, that we are able to do. Nowhere is this more true than in the field of missionary activity. Knowledge forms the basis of interest in missions. It strengthens our faith. It deepens our prayer life. It increases our giving. It gives us a wider vision of the world's needs and helps us to do our duty more willingly and more intelligently. It is true that we need to stress the educational and social natures of young people, but far more should we keep before them the spiritual element, for the Master has need of and is calling them. He is depending on them to carry His gospel into Judea, into Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

In regard to the young people of this our own North Carolina Conference, I take a pardonable pride in saying that all have done well, many have done exceptionally well; some have exhibited a phenomenal growth, while a few have well-nigh become a model of perfection. If time permitted, I should like to mention a number of auxiliaries. I must, however, content myself with rendering honor to whom honor is due. Among the united auxiliaries, Biscoe, with only 15 members—all of whom, however, are active and enthusiastic—has the best general record, averaging $20.05 per member. Laurinburg follows with an average of $14.83 per member. As regards departmental honors, Laurinburg stands first in the Foreign Department, with Biscoe a close second. In the Home Department, Biscoe stands first, while Mary Steele of Rockingham holds second place. St. Paul's of Goldsboro takes third place in both departments.

There are four foreign auxiliaries deserving special mention: Franklinton, Hertford, Oxford, and Franklinton, No. 2.

At the beginning of the past year my first work was to put myself in touch with the young people of the Foreign Department. The young people of the Home Department had already been under my care for a year. My only task with them, therefore, was to revise the records. In all cases where only one department was represented I urged the president of the auxiliary to add the other department wherever practicable.

My letters and appeals throughout the year have met with a hearty and prompt response, and the reports also have been prompt and accurate. In a few instances auxiliaries have been allowed to lapse, but, on the other hand, we are glad to report four accessions, as follows: Ocracoke, Rowland, Greenville, and Faison.

The literature for our young people has been more attractive this year than formerly. The thoughts and suggestions offered have appealed more strongly to the readers. That this is in itself a great gain I am sure all will admit, since so many of the young people depend entirely upon this one source for their information. Unfortunately, there are very few subscribers to either of our periodicals.

I regret to add that the week of prayer was poorly observed by the young people. Let us hope that another year will show a deeper interest in this special season.

During the past year I have endeavored to encourage the young people to report their work through the columns of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, hoping in this way to keep our work before the people and if possible to create a deeper interest among ourselves. A few of the young people responded; but may I ask, "What did you older folks do?" Your editor waited—but in vain—for you failed to furnish "copy."

The Laredo Seminary and the McTyiere School which formed the "specials" for the young people as assigned by the Woman's Missionary Council, were not stressed. I did, however, mention them in my first letter to the auxiliaries, and special literature concerning them was sent out. We failed, however, to face the situation, only two auxiliaries responding. I now, therefore, urge that in forming our plans for the year we keep these specials well to the front.

I heartily commend the young people of the North Carolina Conference for their faithfulness, and pray that the close of the year 1914 may find us more loyal, more earnest, more consecrated to Him and to His great cause, whose we are and whom we serve.

With this report I offer my resignation as second vice president. For two years it has been my privilege and honor to serve you in this capacity, and it is with a reluctant heart that I relinquish my young people; but it seems best to me, and I am sure it is best for the work. And now to my successor I pledge my hearty coöperation and prayers.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIE DUKE,
Second Vice President.

[No. 4.]

THIRD VICE PRESIDENT.

My report includes only the reports of the third and fourth quarters, as I came into this work in September to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. W. B. North. Because of this change, there has been much confusion and delay in this work, and the results have been meager and indefinite.

Thirty-five auxiliaries have reported to me, reporting 15 adult and young people's mission study classes, with 179 enrolled in these classes.

One auxiliary reported a juvenile mission study class with 17 enrolled.

One auxiliary reported a mission study library.

Forty-nine persons were reported as having signed the Christian Stewardship pledge.

Despite the meagerness of this statistical report, there has been a very true note of encouragement, for there have been earnest requests for information and literature concerning Christian Stewardship and Mission Study, showing that our women are awakening in some measure to the importance and possibilities of this phase of the work.

I have found that a number of auxiliaries have failed to elect third vice presidents. I appeal to the auxiliaries to organize along Council lines which require that there shall be four vice presidents. On account of the great importance of knowledge of the needs of the work, it seems to me that it is absolutely necessary that a woman qualified to organize and lead this work be elected in every auxiliary.

Believing as I do that Christian Stewardship means much more than merely tithing, I urge that great emphasis be placed on this phase of the work, for each one is a steward of time, talents, and means.

The great purpose that we should seek to accomplish through this department this year is the deepened prayer life of every member of our organization. More depends on this than on any one other thing.

Realizing the possibilities of this department of our work, if properly developed, I appeal to each auxiliary third vice president to coöperate with her Conference third vice president in making this department bring to the whole work all that a deepened prayer life, an increased knowledge of the needs, and an increased realization of the responsibilities and privileges of stewardship bring.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLIE LOU MCKINNON,
Conference Third Vice President.

[No. 5.]

SOCIAL SERVICE.

At the Council meeting in Birmingham our beloved president, Miss Belle Bennett, incorporated in her message the Social Platform of the Federal Council of Churches, which is only a clear declaration of the Christian world as expressed through thirty of the great Protestant denominations of the country.

As this platform was adopted, it becomes my duty as your fourth vice president to lay it before you, that a discussion of its several features be brought about and that the standing committee of nine be appointed in the Conference to coöperate with other philanthropic and State agencies in the promotion of these causes.

PLATFORM.

"The churches must stand:

"1. For equal rights and complete justice for all men in all stations of life.

"2. For the protection of the family, by the single standard of purity, uniform divorce laws, proper regulation of marriage, and proper housing.

"3. For the fullest possible development for every child, especially by the provision of proper education and recreation.

"4. For the abolition of child labor.

"5. For such regulation of the conditions of toil for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral health of the community.

"6. For the abatement and prevention of poverty.

"7. For the protection of the individual and society from the social, economic, and moral waste of the liquor traffic.

"8. For the right of all men to the opportunity for self-maintenance, for safeguarding this right against encroachments of every kind, and for the protection of workers from the hardships of enforced unemployment.

"9. For the conservation of health.

"10. For the protection of the worker from dangerous machinery, occupational diseases, and mortality.

"11. For suitable provision for the old age of workers, and for those incapacitated by injury.

"12. For the right of employees and employers alike to organize for adequate means of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes.

"13. For a release from employment one day in seven.

"14. For the gradual and reasonable reduction of the hours of labor to the lowest practicable point, and for that degree of leisure for all which is a condition of the highest human life.

"15. For a living wage as a minimum in every industry, and for the highest wage that each industry can afford.

"16. For a new emphasis upon the application of Christian principles to the acquisition and use of property, and for the most equitable division of the product of industry that can ultimately be devised."

Let us see if there be any relation between Social Service and Missions.

Surely there must be, unless our religious life is a thing apart from our social life, our home and neighborhood life. Such a religion as that would lack all vitality and would be ridiculed as only an excess of emotionalism.

The religion that our Lord taught, that makes new creatures of us, teaches that he who would be chief among you must be the servant of all.

Our Master himself could not accomplish his great mission—his death for our transgressions—until he had gone about all those years among the people, proving that he did care for them, healing their sick, restoring their sight, quieting the demoniac, even raising their dead. Not only by these greater acts, but by his entering into their homes, supping with them—partaking of the feast, or of the mere grains of wheat rolled in their hands and eaten as they passed through the field—by the whole routine of his everyday life, he taught us the ministry to the body along with the ministry to the souls of men. And so we must emphasize the social side of Christianity.

If thy brother have need. Who is my brother? We have long heard of and cherished the Fatherhood of God. Then follows the brotherhood of man. Then we must look to the need of the brother. It may be that his need is only a change of environment, or greater light along certain lines of living, so that both physical and moral protection may be afforded.

The State is providing the means of education, but we should see to it that it shall be Christian education, that there should be conservation of health and of the vital powers, so that the best that is in us be brought out for the future service of our Father God and our brother man.

Social Service was the entering wedge in our foreign fields, for by gathering the children into schools, providing hospitals, physicians and nurses for the sick and suffering, and demonstrating the love for all humanity that our Gospel teaches, by these means as much as by preaching our missionaries won their way, and opened field after field until from all the dark places rings the Macedonian cry, "Come over and help us."

The social concience is so aroused in our time that there are many organizations, State and otherwise, for bringing about the human touch between the people of all classes. And it is our duty to aid in this great cause, that we may be workers together with Him in extending the life more abundant that He came to give.

Different denominations have different plans for stimulating the social service work. Ours is systematic and orderly, and no member of our church, and especially of our Woman's Missionary Society, can afford to be indifferent to it.

1. Number of auxiliaries in our Conference, 200.
2. Number having fourth vice presidents, uncertain.
3. Number country, 9 reported.
4. Number village, 20 reported.
5. Number town, 27 reported.

13. Amount expended in giving relief, $1,361.73.
14. Amount expended for other purposes, $55.16.
15. Number of auxiliaries having committee to visit benevolent and corrective institutions, 8.

18. Number of auxiliaries coöperating with other betterment agencies, 8.
19. Number of auxiliaries taking social service study, 12.

In presenting this report I would call attention to the fact that this is the newest department of our missionary work.

We have just completed the second full year, and while I fear that we have not awakened to a full conception of the magnitude and importance of this department, there is much to encourage us and to stimulate us to greater zeal and diligence in both learning our duty along these lines and then doing it.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. H. SPEIGHT,
Conference Fourth Vice President.

Miss Lillian Moore (who is a missionary candidate).

Our report shows an increase of four Young People's Auxiliaries. In the Junior Division there are twenty-five more auxiliaries than last year. Probably this increase has been caused by all of the children of both Home and Foreign societies being reported in the Junior Division, and to Mrs. Wilson's indefatigable work.

I regret that there is a decrease of ten adult auxiliaries and three hundred and twenty members.

However, there is encouragement for us in the increase of $1,621.26 on the pledge.

Since great changes sometimes cause lost motion for a while, or until adjustments grow smooth and we become accustomed to the new conditions, let us hope that reaction will set in with the new year and, with so many new officers to give fresh impetus to the work, that the year 1914 will be a red letter year in the cause of missions.

I would advise an early start and continuous action, since these are requisites for reaching the goal.

THE WORK FOR THE YEAR 1914.

1. Prayer and sacrifice.
2. Dues.
3. Pledge of $12,000.
4. Conference expense fund.
5. Missionary candidate fund.
6. Missionary retirement fund.

7. Scholarships.
8. Bible women.
9. Sub-mission stations:
   Blanche Fentress School.
   Mary Helm School.
   Joy Hardie Bible School.
   Nurse Training School.
   Reavis School.
   The Scarritt Bible and Training School.
   Rio School.
   Widows' Home.

And other special work that may be decided upon by the Woman's Council.

A Conference society that holds its annual session prior to the meeting of the Woman's Council is at a great disadvantage and the whole work suffers. May the time soon come when the majority can see this as I do, and reap the benefit from the change.

I recommend that another and stronger effort be made to have all quarterly and annual reports forwarded as directed in by-laws.

I further recommend that as soon as possible all auxiliaries furnish themselves with record books from Mrs. Bessie Lipscomb, Nashville, Tenn.

This may be a very trying and anxious year for the missionary women of the M. E. Church, South, since our General Conference meets in May and its legislation may bring changes in our constitution which will cause, ere we are fully adjusted, more readjusting. Should this occur, we hope it will be for the best. But let no one be discouraged because of such a possibility, remembering that our Heavenly Father will guard His own.

Our work is to love our neighbor as ourselves according to the definition of neighbor that Jesus gave us. If we do that, we will be kept busy, and we can afford to leave the results with God.

To be Good Samaritans we must remember that Christian Missions, Home and Foreign, are among the most notable examples of the spirit of the Good Samaritan, Jesus Christ. Let us give good service. As service is the purpose of our education, so also is it the means of our future training. We are trained for service, and we are trained by service. We are told that a violin tuned by a master grows ever richer and sweeter with the years. "A Stradivarius three hundred years old, played for years by Paganini, holds his spirit ready to breathe it forth again in music at the touch of a master." So God makes and fashions us, and, if we will respond to His touch, He tunes us and fills us with His spirit, and so prepares us to praise Him in an unending life of service. To be found in the line of duty, though it be but to give a cup of cold water in the name of the Christ, is beautiful service which will merit its reward. God give us the true missionary spirit that we may treat the poor, the despised, the outcast, the degraded, the heathen, as our neighbors and give them all possible aid. To neglect these neighbors by not thinking to do is no excuse. You recall Hood's The Lady's Dream. "She saw those who had suffered from her neglect, sick, starving, dying. Their sad eyes burned her very soul."

"And yet it was never in my soul
To play so ill a part.
But evil is wrought by want of thought
As well as by want of heart."

Pardon my message, which is longer than usual, since this closes my work as your Conference corresponding secretary and my twentieth consecutive year in this office.

Thirty-six years ago the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference was organized with my name first on the roll. I was elected one of its officers, and I have been an incumbent ever since. I have watched, tended, and loved it as a mother her child. So you can see why I linger at the parting. Were I more stoical and less emotional, I would be present with you in person as I am in spirit. Put yourselves in my place, and then you will understand why I write my goodbye instead of saying it face to face. And I am not needed, since you have such a nice "bill of fare" for the session. A great feast awaits you in the sermon of Bishop McCoy, and the presence of Mrs. Albright, Mrs. Britt, Mrs. Spillman, and Miss Stradley will be an inspiration.

It is due you and me that I give, at least, a short explanation for my action in resigning the office of Conference corresponding secretary of the Foreign Department. I am acting from a sense of duty. After a year's experience, I find that my training has been so long and thorough in the Foreign Mission work that it is not easy to give that up and begin to follow another plan, and I cannot give it that enthusiastic attention that the work should have. I am anxious for the great missionary work of the Church to go forward to success. I regard this as the opportune time for a new corresponding secretary to be initiated. She can become familiar with the work as it is, with no cherished plans to give up; with all to learn and nothing to unlearn. May God direct you in electing my successor. May He anoint her for the great service to which He calls her, and may success crown her efforts.

To my many friends who have been so faithful to me I am truly grateful. I thank and bless you for your forbearance and great help. And now may the Lord Jesus be with and abide with this missionary society and with you each one individually, now and forever.

Respectfully submitted,

SUE D. SWINDELL,
Corresponding Secretary, Foreign Department.

[No. 9.]

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY OF THE HOME DEPARTMENT.

Perhaps the most unsatisfactory feature of report-making is that the best things in a work like ours are the ones hardest to put into report form. A tabulation of certain material facts is always necessary, and does in some measure represent what has been done.

The year just closing has been one of such marked advance in every way that our hearts are made glad in the Lord, for He has led us all the days.

As one whose duty it has been to lead the way, and watch the growth, and gather the facts, I can tell you with joyfulness that it has been a good year. Not all has been easy; not everything has been done in just the best manner. However, the spirit of love has been large in many hearts, and there has been such earnestness of purpose and such honesty of effort that a great forward-moving tide has set in.

Certainly from no corps of district secretaries could come more hearty support and ready response than have been given this year.

And they tell me that you of the auxiliaries have given them like support. You, indeed, have made possible their splendid work.

Particular mention must be made of the large work of Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson with the children, and that of Miss Lillie Duke with the Young People. Surely these are two women in their appointed places. When their reports appear in printed form, make a study of them; then sing a song of gladness, and with thanksgiving offer up prayer for them in their work. Nearly four thousand children and young people are now enrolled.

Adult membership does not show large gain for the year, but the increase in number of those taking reading courses and doing mission study is beginning to bear fruit in increase of interest and intelligent labor.

Our pledge of $3,000 has not been reached, but with nearly $2,000 of it already in hand, we have courage to undertake the finish, and earnestly hope that the deficit may be met in the pledge for the new year.

Wilmington, New Bern, and Rockingham districts deserve mention as having overpaid their pledge assessments.

FIELD SECRETARY.

At the close of the first term as your field secretary, much to my surprise I was reappointed to that office. We have now reached the close of the second year's work. I therefore take pleasure in submitting the following report:

In accordance with the plan adopted the previous year, I was again subject to the orders of the district secretaries. A few of these were eager and in fact enthusiastic over the thought of having some one at their disposal. Thus right early in the year my work began.

The first call had to be denied. This was for the Wilmington District meeting. In spite of faithful efforts on the part of the secretary, much to my regret a satisfactory appointment could not be arranged later.

The Rockingham District was my next appointment. Thither I gladly wended my way, for I was eager to learn for myself whether all the wonderful reports from there were true. Much to my joy, I found that "the half was not told." Too much cannot be said in praise of the people and the splendidly organized work of this district, all of which is due to the fact that the field is in the hands of a master workman and the people are responsive. An entire month was given to this territory. The district meeting at Hamlet was a little conference in itself.

The Elizabeth City District was not ready for an itinerary, but it was my privilege to be at Hertford for the district meeting and later at Sunbury for the Gates County Missionary Institute. Each of these meetings was an inspiration, and much good has resulted from them.

Then followed the Raleigh and New Bern District meetings, held at Franklinton and Morehead City respectively. Here, as in the meetings previously mentioned, an inspiration was gained and the people went away with a new interest, a new enthusiasm, and a new love for the cause.

May I pause here to add that I believe that the district meeting is one of the most important factors in our work. Let me, therefore, urge that each district secretary make a determined effort to hold at least one such meeting at some time during the year.

Three of the four districts last mentioned, namely, Rockingham, Raleigh, and New Bern, were practically covered by your field secretary in her itinerary, while five districts were entirely untouched. But may we not hope that the work has grown in spite of the failures, if failures we must count them?

Owing to the fact that this was the first year of the united society, in many cases the spirit of union has been slow in its development; but in all cases where the second department has been added without friction, the work has prospered wonderfully, for which we should feel encouraged.

Shall we not, then, put on the whole armor of God and go forward in this new year with a greater determination than ever before to do His will and so help bring about the advancement of His kingdom in all the earth?

Number of towns visited	40
Number of talks made	50
Number of district meetings attended	3
Attended Gates County Institute	-----
Attended Epworth League Conference	-----
Letters and cards written	100
Miles traveled	3,000

As I submit this report, at the same time I tender my resignation as your field secretary. The work has indeed been a great joy to me, and for the opportunities for service which you have given to me through this channel I thank you most heartily. On my part, the service which I have been able to render has been a very small compensation for the interest, love, and prayers which you have so abundantly bestowed upon me. Your fellowship and hospitality will always remain a source of joy and inspiration in my life, and if I am ever able in any way to render you a service I shall be glad to do so.

(MISS) LILLIE DUKE,
Field Secretary.

REPORT OF PRESS SUPERINTENDENT.

This has been a busy year for your press superintendent, now called Superintendent of Publicity Bureau.

I have sent out the Bulletins regularly every month as promptly as possible. It has cost the Conference $28 to send this literature through the mail. As nearly as I can say, I have sent out about 3,700 Bulletins. I was instructed to send three to each auxiliary, but I have never received enough to supply that number.

I have "done my best" to put before the women the fresh news of the Bulletin every month. I have sent it directly to the auxiliaries, and for fear all members might not have been present at the monthly meeting, I have given much of the Bulletin news to our Woman's Page in the Advocate.

I do feel that the information we get from this little monthly Bulletin of our work is very valuable, though many of our women never see it.

I have had only a very unsatisfactory mailing list. I have felt all through the year that there were many auxiliaries that I did not reach, as the name of neither president nor press superintendent was furnished me. It has been hard to get a full list of auxiliaries, and I feel that perhaps many do not hear from our work in our mission fields because of this fact. I hope every woman here will see to it that the name of her auxiliary president and press superintendent be sent in to the publicity superintendent just as soon as she gets home.

I have asked the district secretaries to send me the names of the officers of the auxiliaries of their districts, and I have heard from only a few.

My dear auxiliary president, you would help us all, as we try to carry on our Conference work, if you would send the names of your officers to your district secretaries as soon as they are elected. Please bear this in mind!

And delegates, will you impress it on your president to call for these Bulletins every month? These little papers cost money to print them, time to compile them, and a great deal of trouble to fold and send out over 500 every month. I scarcely ever sleep before 2 a. m. the nights I get them ready for the mail, and these Bulletins have cost our Conference this year $25.05 in postage alone. Do not throw them away before gleaning from them the good therein contained—the information you should have.

Take this message home to your auxiliary and elect a press superintendent who will keep this little paper before you with its missionary message from Home and Foreign fields.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. C. DUNCAN.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

We the Committee on Young People's Work, realizing the importance of educating the young people along missionary lines, recommend:

2. That wherever possible, a mission study class or reading circle be organized.

3. That emphasis be given to Bible study in the regular monthly meeting.

4. That with the view of reaching and interesting other young people, public and social meetings be held occasionally, and the special work being done by the Young People explained.

5. That an effort be made to secure subscribers for The Missionary Voice, as this is a most essential guide in carrying on our work.

6. That Good Friday be observed as a special day of prayer for the Student Volunteer Movement.

7. That each Young People's Society be urged to take one or more shares in the pledge of $20,000 to go to the support of Laredo Seminary and McTyiere School.

2. That they be organized according to plans given by the Council.

3. That a strong effort be made to put The Young Christian Worker into every home.

MISSION STUDY.

The Committee on Mission Study and Christian Stewardship, realizing the importance of mission study, in that "knowledge is power," and believing Christian stewardship to be the underlying principle of all true service, wish to submit the following recommendations:

1. That in every auxiliary extreme care be taken in the selection of a third vice president.

2. That a Mission Study Class be organized in each Adult and Young People's Auxiliary and an effort be made to enlist every woman in the church in mission study.

3. That study classes be organized in all junior divisions.

4. That missionary libraries be established in auxiliaries wherever possible.

5. That district secretaries coöperate with the Conference third vice president in formulating some plan for the establishment of district circulating libraries.

6. That the subject of Christian stewardship be presented in each auxiliary at least once a quarter.

7. That each pastor be asked to preach on Christian stewardship as early as possible in the year.

8. That systematic Bible study be urged by every third vice president.

9. That an effort be made to place The Missionary Voice, The Young Christian Worker, and The Missionary Prayer Calendar in every home.

10. That the first auxiliary meeting after the publication of the Conference Minutes be devoted to a study of the same.

DISTRICT SECRETARIES' BOOKS.

Your committee have examined the district secretaries' books, and find most of them correctly and neatly kept. Special mention is due Mrs. Mann and Mrs. McKinne, as their books are especially neat.

MRS. W. H. TRUMAN,
MRS. R. H. WHITAKER,
MRS. E. L. HART,
Committee.

[No. 6.]

EXTENSION OF WORK.

1. Whereas we are fully conscious of the need of consecrated workers to fill the depleting ranks of our societies, and coveting for the Master's use the best talent and consecration the Church can furnish, and realizing that this must be furnished from the army of young people, we do urge upon the district secretaries, presidents, and first and second vice presidents of auxiliaries that they be prayerfully diligent in organizing our young people into missionary societies. These societies are to be both social and missionary in their nature.

2. We recommend that each society be requested to organize a "Study Circle," reporting same to the third vice president of the Conference.

3. We again recommend that each district secretary shall pledge an earnest effort to hold an annual meeting in the district, at which time she shall urge the great importance of organizing new auxiliaries, doing all in her power to develop the district.

4. Whereas there is an urgent call for recruits in the mission fields and an alarming scarcity of missionary volunteers in the ranks of our Church, we recommend the first and second vice presidents be urged to place especial stress on the need of giving, not only time and money, but giving one's life for definite service.

5. We recommend that the Conference officers and each auxiliary president make every effort to have the Week of Prayer observed.

6. We continue to recommend the soliciting of honorary members, whose dues shall be $1 per year, paid in advance.

7. For the purpose of securing accuracy, we recommend that the executive committee of each auxiliary hold a meeting immediately before sending the quarterly reports.

We also recommend that the spirit of union be encouraged in all our auxiliaries.

MRS. R. B. JOHN, Chairman;
MRS. W. T. BAUGHAM,
MRS. W. F. MURPHY,
MRS. J. N. WINSLOW,
MRS. F. B. MCKINNE,
MRS. H. J. FAISON,
MRS. B. N. MANN.

[No. 7.]

PUBLICITY.

We are conscious of the great benefit of the press to our missionary work, and, feeling the need of greater care and more systematic effort along this line, we recommend:

1. That each auxiliary elect a publicity superintendent, whose business it shall be to present the Monthly Bulletin to the auxiliary in the most helpful way possible.

2. That this superintendent shall give to the secular press missionary notes of interest, thus giving the public the benefit of the latest news from our mission fields.

3. That the publicity superintendent be urged to strive to fill out the quarterly report blanks and return promptly to the Conference publicity superintendent.

4. That the auxiliary publicity superintendent seek interesting bits of missionary news for the Woman's Page in The Raleigh Christian Advocate, and in turn present the news to be found on our Woman's Page to her auxiliary.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. Z. V. SNIPES,
MISS BETTIE LEE SANDERS,
MRS. E. C. DUNCAN,
Chairman.

[No. 8.]

SOCIAL SERVICE.

We recommend:

1. That all auxiliaries elect a fourth vice president.

2. That the fourth vice president make a careful study of her department as outlined in the constitution and missionary helps.

3. That the work of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America be discussed and that such features of that work as have local application be carefully studied and developed.

4. That the local subcommittee spare no effort to make the parsonage a model home, and that the use of the parsonage as a pastoral and social center for the life of the church be given thoughtful attention.

5. That the fourth vice president present to the auxiliary the studies sent out by the Council, so that the committee may be able to make a survey of the field and thus get a knowledge of conditions that demand attention and assistance.

6. That the auxiliary fourth vice president give good heed to the regulation that she is to send accurate reports to the Conference fourth vice president promptly.

7. That the auxiliary fourth vice president send her name and address immediately after her election, to the Conference fourth vice president and to the corresponding secretaries.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. H. SPEIGHT,
MRS. S. T. HARRELL,
MRS. R. O. BURTON,
For the Committee.

RESOLUTIONS

[No. 1.]

Whereas, Mrs. F. D. Swindell is one of the charter members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and has been a valuable officer the entire time, and for twenty years has served as Conference corresponding secretary: Be it Resolved, That in her resignation we are losing one of the strongest of our executive laborers. Good training and long service have given a finish to a heart and intellect richly endowed by nature, which she delighted to use in the cause of missions. She has never failed to heed the call of duty, nor hesitated to assume its responsibilities; and she has discharged them with a firmness of convictions of right which many lack the courage to manifest.

Those of us who have worked by her side through the years, feel that in offering this testimony to her valuable services we are paying but a feeble tribute to the great worth of a coworker whose familiar face was sure to greet us at our annual meetings, and whose presence was always a benediction to us.

Mrs. B. B. Adams,
Mrs. M. Bradshaw,
Mrs. F. B. McKinne,
Mrs. R. A. Willis.

[No. 2.]

Whereas Memorial Church and the city of Durham have given the Conference most excellent and gracious entertainment: Therefore, be it Resolved:

1. That we hereby express our profound appreciation of the hospitality of the Durham people, and tender them our heartfelt thanks for their manifold kindnesses, and we pray that they may be the recipients of all good things.

2. That we are especially grateful to the faculty and students of Trinity College for the reception and entertainment tendered the Conference Saturday afternoon in the east wing of the Duke building.

Signed: Mrs. Edgar Hart,
Mrs. S. R. Alley,
Mrs. Kerr Taylor,
Miss Vara Herring,
Miss Fannie Louise Neal.

2. The object of this society is to plan and direct the Woman's Missionary work of the Conference.

3. The Conference Society shall consist of one or more delegates from each auxiliary, one or more District Secretaries from each district, a Superintendent of Press Work, and the following officers: A President, four Vice Presidents, two Corresponding Secretaries, one or more Recording Secretaries, one or more Treasurers. These officers shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting.

1. The Conference officers elected by ballot shall constitute an Executive Committee to transact business in the intervals of the annual sessions. Three shall constitute a quorum.

2. Conference officers shall be nominated by a committee named by the Executive Committee, composed of one or more representatives from each district. This does not debar the parliamentary privilege of nomination from the floor after the committee's report has been presented.

3. The District Secretaries and Conference Superintendents shall be nominated by a committee composed of the President, Corresponding Secretaries, and Treasurers, and shall be elected by acclamation.

4. An alternate from each department shall be elected at each annual session to attend the session of the Woman's Missionary Council.

5. Each Conference Society shall adopt a plan for raising a fund to meet the expenses of the Conference.

6. The Conference Society shall make its appropriations in annual session from the half of the regular membership fund of the Home Department, subject to its direction, these appropriations to be contingent upon the concurrence of the Woman's Missionary Council.

7. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Conference Society and of the Executive Committee, and shall actively advance the interests of the work.

8. The Vice Presidents shall perform the duties of the President in her absence.

10. The Corresponding Secretaries shall conduct the correspondence of the society and supply the auxiliaries with information and with literature. They shall use all practical means for the organization of adult, young people's, and children's auxiliaries in every charge of the Conference, and forward a detailed report of each organization to the Corresponding Secretaries of the Woman's Missionary Council, to whom they shall also send quarterly reports by the 15th day of the first month of each quarter. They shall make to the Conference Society a report of the preceding session of the Woman's Missionary Council and such other reports as that body may desire. They shall sign all drafts on the Treasurer.

11. The Recording Secretary shall give notice of all meetings of the Conference Society and of the Executive Committee, and keep the minutes of the same on record.

She shall send itemized reports promptly on the 15th day of the first month of each quarter to the Treasurer of the Woman's Missionary Council, therewith transmitting such funds as are collected for the General Treasury. She shall also send an itemized statement to the Conference Corresponding Secretary.

13. The District Secretaries shall organize auxiliaries, and use every available means to promote the advancement of the Woman's Missionary Societies in their districts. They shall present a report of the work at the District Conference, and shall hold annual meetings in the district (composed of delegates from the auxiliaries), and all-day meetings whenever practicable. If the Conference so direct, the District Secretaries shall conduct the correspondence with auxiliaries, and send a quarterly report to the Conference Corresponding Secretaries, and a copy of the same to the President of the Conference Society.
